When introduced, Liberty Head nickels carried no statement of value except for a large roman numeral "V" (5) on the reverse. It didn't take long for con men to begin passing off gold-plated Liberty nickels for the similar-looking $5.00 gold piece! The U.S. Mint corrected its mistake by adding the word CENTS to the coins partway through 1883.

* While these dates do make your collection more complete, these scarcer coins are not required to earn your Certificate.
